HILARY DUFF

Of The Rich & Famous

“When you’re thin like Hilary, it’s hard to disguise implants,” says Dr. Calabria.

Then BARELY THERE — MAY 16, 2007
Hilary’s bust was nonexistent in this strapless sequined dress at Maxim magazine’s Hot 100 bash in NYC.

Now HELLO, CLEAVAGE! — SEPT. 27, 2007
It was impossible not to notice Hilary’s rounded, pumped-up chest in this similar strapless number!

HILARY DUFF celebrated the big 2-0 on Sept. 28, but it looks like the pop star may have treated herself to an early birthday present! On Sept. 27, a voluptuous Hil was practically popping out of her sexy strapless gown at the Spirit of Life Awards in West Hollywood! Did she splurge on breast implants? “A telltale sign of breast augmentation is the rounded look on top,” says Beverly Hills plastic surgeon Renato Calabria, M.D., who has not treated the star. “When you have a thin person like Hilary, you see a rounder look on the breast, because when you’re thin, it’s hard to disguise the implant,” explains Dr. Calabria. “If she did have breast augmentation, she went really small,” he says, observing that in the before photo

Hilary looked like a full A cup and now looks closer to a full B cup. According to Dr. Calabria, the most common implants are made of silicone gel and cost between $10,000 to $12,000. That’s a drop in the bucket compared with the $100,000-plus Mercedes-Benz SUV Hilary’s hockey player beau, Mike Comrie, surprised her with!
